

ADS IN MISINFORMATION

The Climate Edition

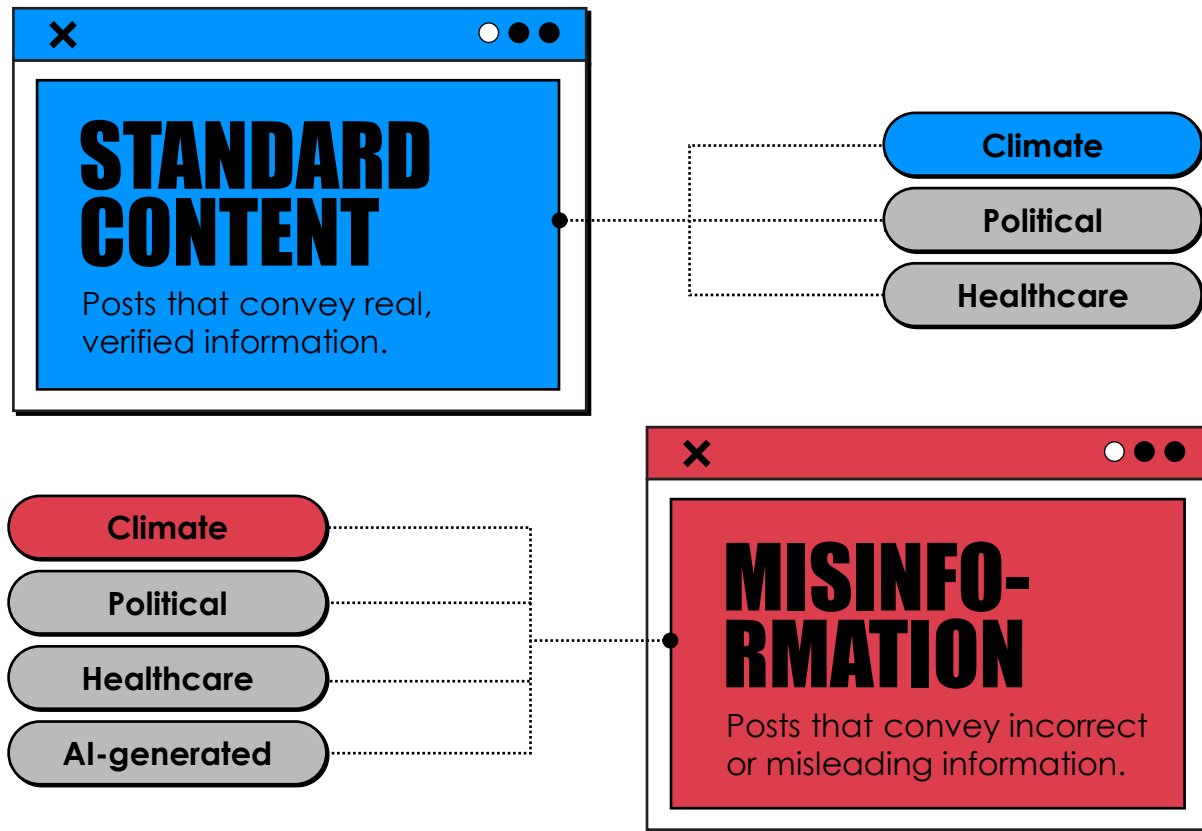

From our previous research...

WE KNOW THAT MISINFORMATION IS A REAL ISSUE FOR BRANDS

OUR NEW GOAL

To assess the impact of misinformation on brands, we tested 5 different types of content.

4 Verticals:

Tested ads from an array of different verticals.

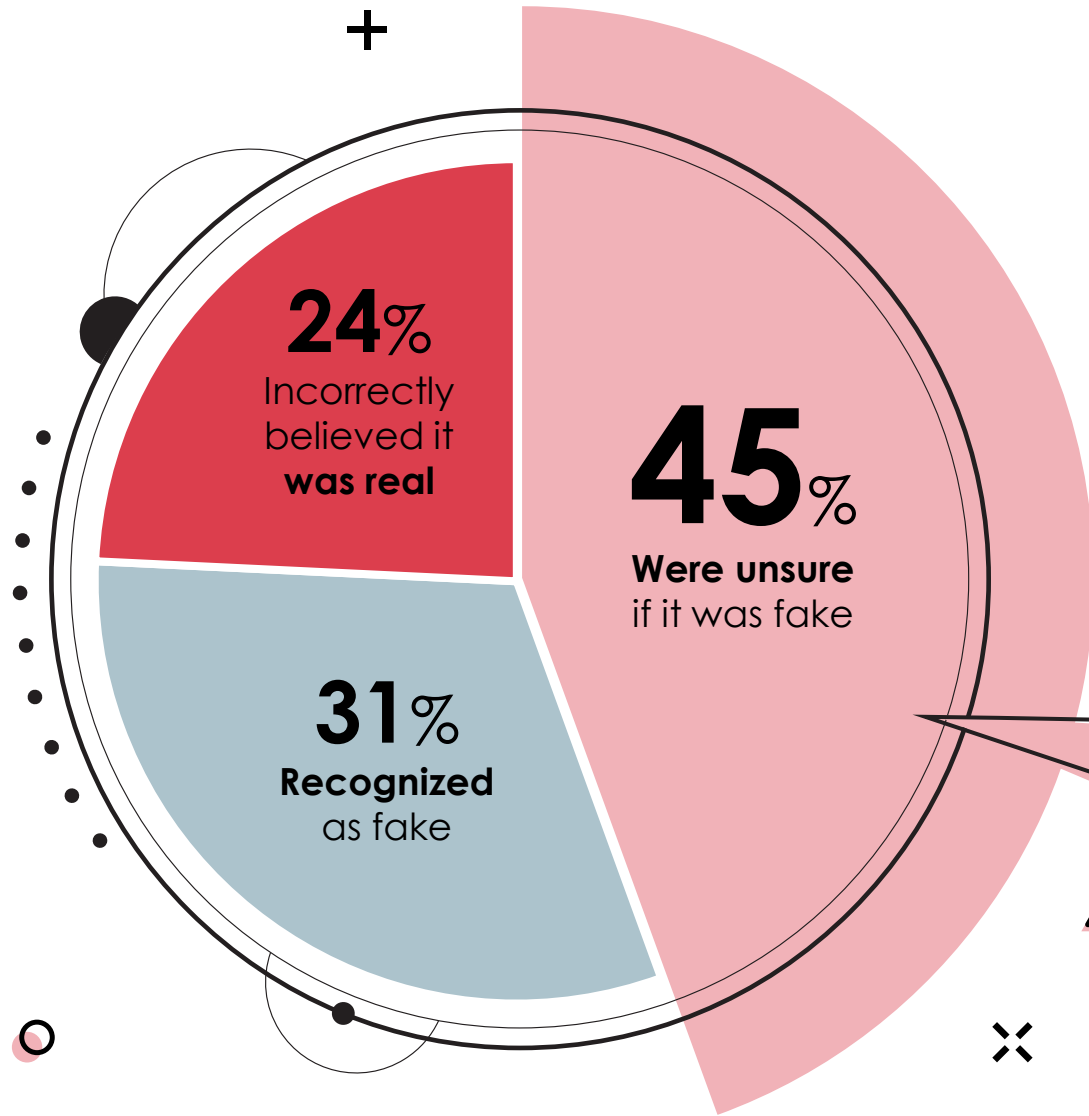

NAVIGATING MISINFORMATION

“LOSERS cheat to win”

FAKE NEWS

Fake News
Global warming isn't real
#hoax

SPOTTING MISINFORMATION CAN BE TRICKY; MANY PEOPLE ARE UNCERTAIN

Correctly identifying misinformation

I DON'T KNOW!

IDENTIFYING CLIMATE RELATED MISINFORMATION IS THE TRICKIEST

Correctly identifying misinformation

	Incorrectly believed misinformation as real	Were unsure if misinformation was fake	Recognized misinformation as fake
Climate misinformation	36%	42%	22%
Healthcare misinformation	25%	53%	22%
Political misinformation	15%	41%	44%
AI Generated misinformation	23%	41%	36%

Exposed only; Misinformation Content n=1,625

Q: How would you rate the information in the post on the following? – The post shared fake information; Agreement Scale

Q: In general, what did you think of the information shared in the post?

...WITH MANY FEELING INTIMIDATED AND ALARMED BY IT

"It can be pretty scary. The rubble showed that climate change can definitely affect our homes in a drastic and dramatic way."

"I am terrified of what climate change is going to bring on us. Earthquakes are just one catastrophic outcome of not acting sooner. I totally noticed this post."

"I think it's unfortunate and quite scary really."

"A catastrophic disaster and it's remnants."

PRICE BRANDS PAY

What brands need to know about misinformation

The central figure is a woman with a worried and confused expression. Surrounding her are several digital elements:

- Top Left: A white box labeled "Fake News" with a red dot and a thumbs-down icon.
- Top Right: A vertical stack of two images under the heading "Lies". The top image is a red square with a black exclamation mark. The bottom image is a blue baseball cap. A thumbs-down icon is to the right.
- Middle Left: A social media post from "SUS" with a red background and a large black "X". It has 1.6k comments and a thumbs-down icon.
- Middle Right: A social media post from "Kitsune Inc" showing a blue baseball cap. It has a "#CANCELLED" speech bubble and a red heart icon with the number "0".
- Bottom: A progress bar with three segments: red (with a sad face icon), grey (with a neutral face icon), and blue (with a happy face icon). A white mouse cursor is clicking the red segment.

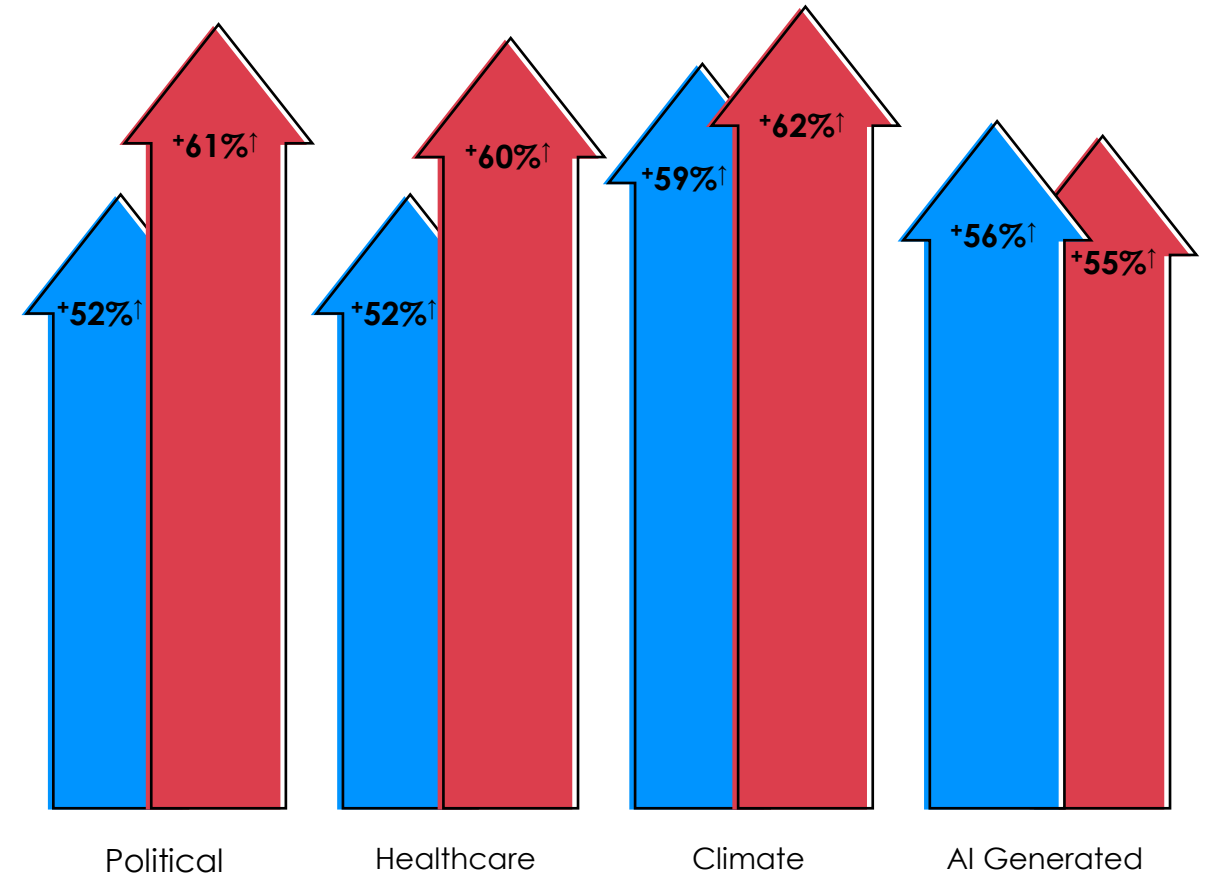

BRANDS GET REMEMBERED NEXT TO MISINFORMATION

Unaided Brand Recall – Content

Delta (Exposed – Control)

● Standard Content ● Misinformation Content

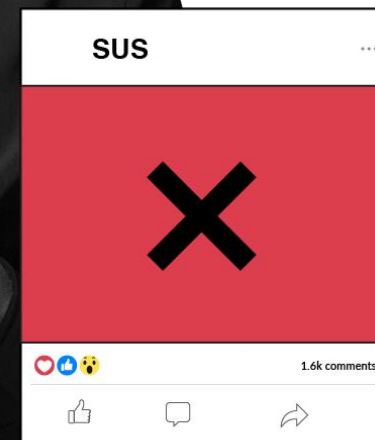

Overall, Misinformation Content, Exposed n=1625, Control n=1625; Standard Content, Exposed n=411, Control n=411
 Political, Misinformation Content, Exposed n=406, Control n=406; Standard Content, Exposed n=202, Control n=202
 Healthcare, Misinformation Content, Exposed n=409, Control n=409; Standard Content, Exposed n=202, Control n=202
 Climate, Misinformation Content, Exposed n=402, Control n=402; Standard Content, Exposed n=209, Control n=209
 AI Generated, Misinformation Content, Exposed n=408, Control n=408; Standard Content, Exposed n=411, Control n=411

Q: Thinking back to your session today, did you happen to notice any brands being mentioned or shown? If so, kindly mention the brand(s) below.

↑: Significant difference between exposed and control groups at >=90% confidence

...BUT ARE THEY REMEMBERED FOR THE RIGHT REASONS?

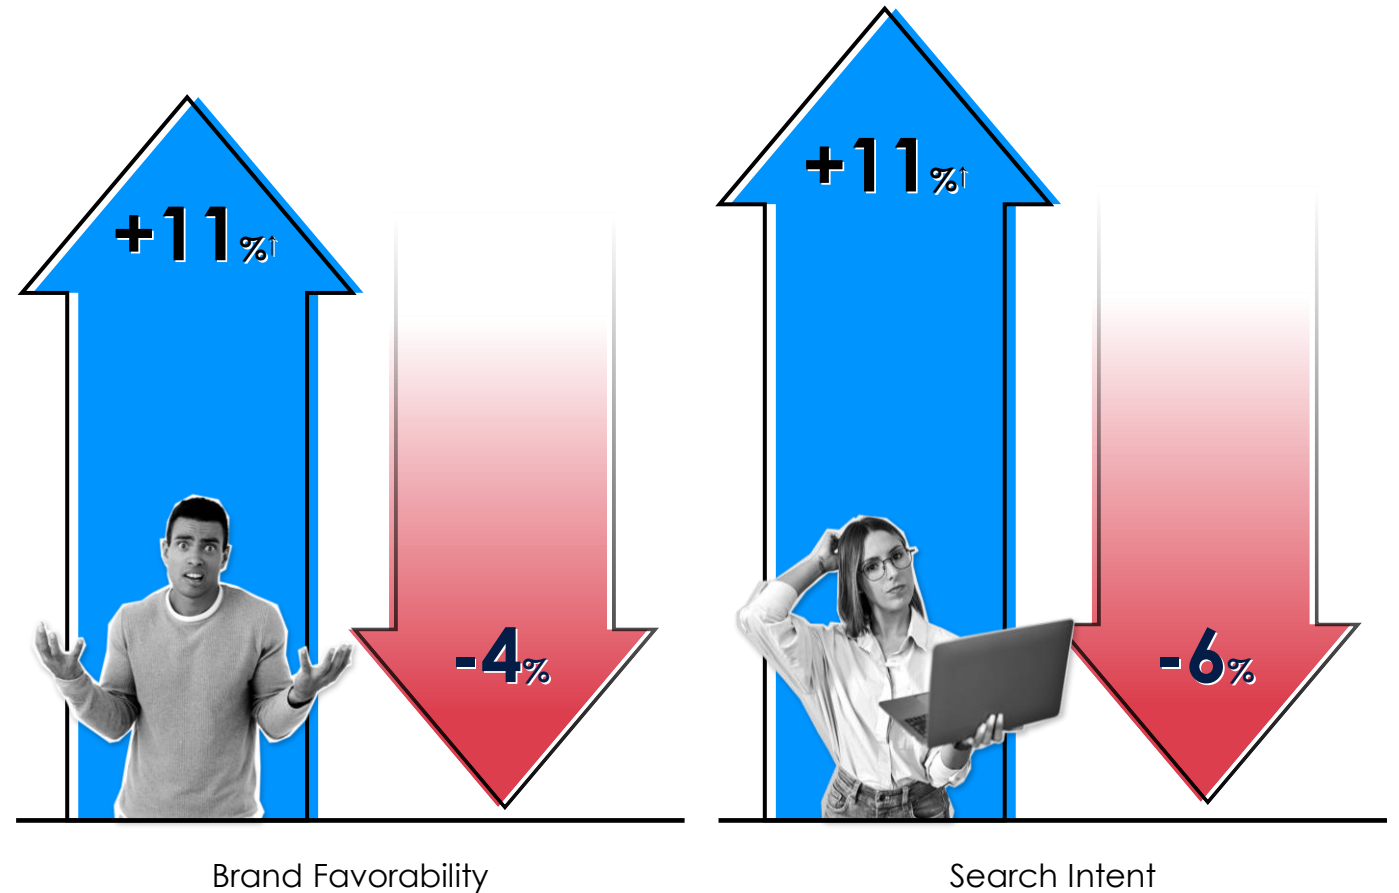

WHEN PEOPLE ARE UNSURE IF CLIMATE MISINFORMATION IS FAKE, ADS LOSE IMPACT

Impact on brand

Delta (Exposed – Control)

- Standard Content
- Climate Misinformation Content Amongst Those Unsure If It Was Fake

Among those who were unsure if misinformation was fake | Climate Misinformation Content, Exposed n=170, Control n=209; Climate Standard Content, Exposed n=209, Control n=209

Q: To what extent do you agree or disagree with the following statements about [brand]? – Is a brand I prefer over other brands – Agreement scale

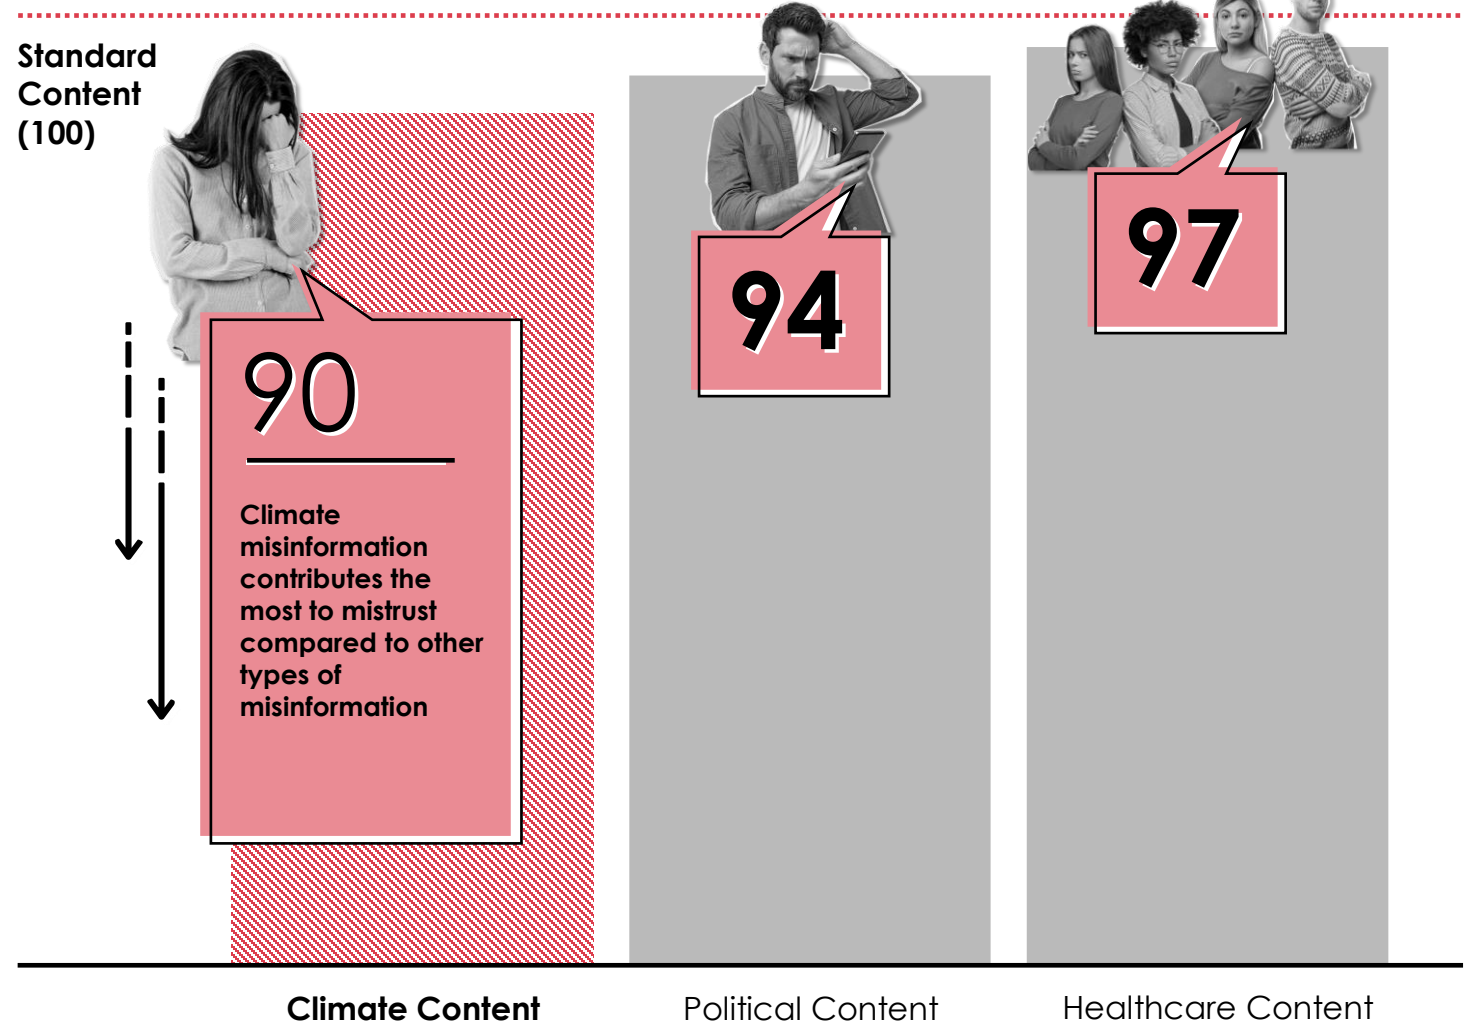

Q: How inclined are you to search for information about the following? – Agreement scale

†: Significant different between groups at >=90% confidence

THE EXACT SAME AD IS TRUSTED LESS, ESPECIALLY NEXT TO CLIMATE MISINFORMATION

Ad conveyed information I trust

Misinformation Content Indexed to Standard Content

Exposed only; Climate, Misinformation content n=268; Standard Content n=130; Politics, Misinformation content n=262; Standard Content n=120; Healthcare, Misinformation content n=252; Standard Content n=120
Note: Significant different between groups at >=90% confidence
Q: How would you rate the ad on the following? – The ad conveyed information I trust – Agreement Scale

GREEN BRANDS LOSE CREDIBILITY WHEN LINKED TO ENVIRONMENTAL MISINFORMATION

Opinion if an eco-friendly brand is seen alongside climate misinformation

% Agree

The screenshot shows a website titled 'FAKENEWS INC' with a navigation bar including Home, US, News, Politics, Media, Business, Entertainment, and Weather. The main headline reads 'Climate change is baloney!' above a video player showing a storm. Below the video, the author is listed as 'Aaron "The Liar" Smith'. A sponsored advertisement for 'FREE SPIRIT' cheese is displayed on the right, featuring a stack of cheese wheels and the text 'Consciously Clean Ingredients'. The ad includes a 'LEARN MORE' button and a 'Report this ad' link.

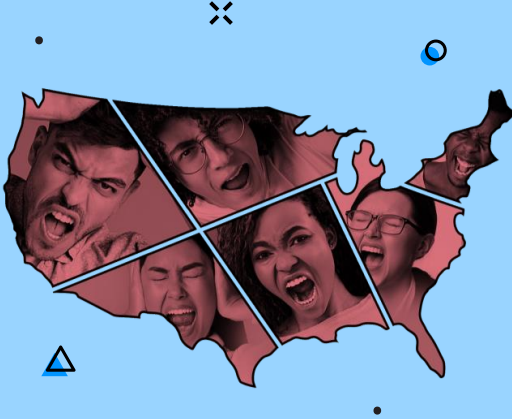

44%

Would question the brand's sustainability efforts.

Everyone, n= 2,036

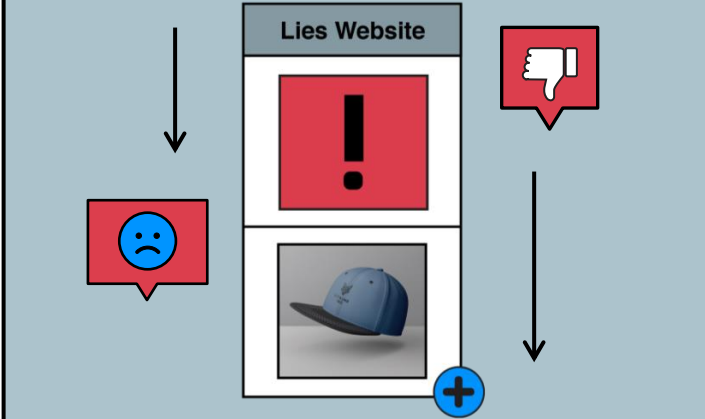

Q: Now imagine you come across an ad for a famous eco-friendly brand like Patagonia, and it's shown alongside misinformation about the environment. With this in mind, how much do you agree or disagree with the following statements about the brand? – Agreement scale

IMPLICATIONS

Misinformation can tarnish a brand's reputation

Advertisers must carefully consider the context in which their ads appear. Being linked to misinformation, particularly climate-related misinformation, erodes brand integrity and trustworthiness.

Adjacency to misinformation leads to lost brand impact

Advertisers should consider investing in strategies that ensure their ads are placed in reliable environments to maximize ROAS. IPGMB clients may reach out to their client business partner to learn more about different strategies we have to take action.

ZEER

MAGNA MEDIA TRIALS